

LOCAL NEWS.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 25, 1895.

Sun rises to-morrow at 7:08; and sets at 5:54. High water 8:20 a. m. and 8:32 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this week it is cloudy and threatening to-day, followed by snow to-night, probably turning into rain Saturday; warmer; easterly winds.

CHARGED WITH DEFACING PROPERTY.—L. W. Brennan was arrested yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Rose Brown, who charged him with defacing the Eldorado House, which was formerly occupied by him. A chandelier had been considerably damaged, a window sash knocked out, the paper on the wall torn, defaced and deluged with water and a hole cut in the plastering and into the lath. The trial came off last night in the Police Court. The prisoner was represented by Messrs. Louis C. Bailey and Thomas L. Cokerell and Mrs. Brown by Mr. John W. Greene. A number of witnesses were examined, none of whom, however, could testify that they saw the accused commit the offense of which he was charged. During the trial it was shown that on Sunday a fight had occurred in the house between Harry Potts and Harry Brown, during which doors were broken open and the combatants chased each other from room to room, striking at each other with skillful and throwing the contents of sash pulls at one another; also that the sash had been broken out by Robert Arnold while engaged in bringing a bedstead from one of the upper rooms. Mayor Strauss concluded that there was no evidence against Brennan and discharged him. He was, however, immediately arraigned before Justice Whiting on a Commonwealth's warrant charging him with injuring and destroying property not his own. It was stated by the justice that he had heard the prisoner say that he would get even with Mrs. Brown for distraining his goods and chattels for rent. The bulk of the evidence was gone over again and, after a session of two hours and a quarter, Brennan was declared guilty of the charge and held in $200 bond for his appearance before the grand jury and $100 for his good behavior. He gave security and was released.

HARNESS RECOVERED.—About two weeks ago, it will be remembered, Mr. E. E. Lawler's stable was broken open and robbed of a set of harness valued at $40. The police have been busy ever since in endeavoring to discover the whereabouts of the stolen property, and two search warrants were issued, and executed, but without success. Several individuals whom the police had reason to suspect were engaged in the robbery have been kept under surveillance, and last night it was believed an attempt would be made to take the harness from some hiding place in the neighborhood of the stable to a house in the northern part of the city. Officers Webster and Smith were selected to keep watch, and some time during the night they arrested Harry Potts, Ernest Langley and Robert Arnold, having reason to suspect them of stealing the property and secreting it. The harness was found by the two officers in the valley of two sheds back of the old City Hotel, on Cameron street. The case came up for trial in the Police Court at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A large crowd gathered at three o'clock to listen to the evidence in the case. Mayor Strauss presided, Commonwealth's Attorney Marbury conducted the prosecution and Messrs. Louis C. Bailey, John H. Greene, Douglas Stuart and Thomas L. Cokerell appeared for the accused. Officer Webster stated at half-past ten o'clock he was on Cameron street and heard some noise, and proceeded to the rear of the City Hotel, at what is known as Head's blacksmith shop, and found the missing harness. The persons who had had it in charge fled, and the officers, believing Langley, Potts and Arnold were the parties who had vanished, subsequently found and arrested them. Mr. Smith's evidence was to the same effect. There was no evidence whatever against the accused and they were discharged.

ASSAULT ON A BRIDE.—An elderly colored individual named John Henderson yesterday concluded to take unto himself a wife to cheer and comfort him in the evening of his life, and proceeded to the station house to get a license from Captain Webster. He was told that that should be the place to obtain such a permit, as it was where most people came to get into trouble, but that under existing laws no one save the Clerk of the Corporation Court could issue such a license. The prospective Benedict went where directed, procured his license, proceeded to his home and began making arrangements for the decisive act. While he engaged a dusky belle of powerful build named Edie Williams entered the house, in which Henderson is only a tenant, and upon being told what was on the tapis giggled and said, "What, that old thing going to get married? Why, he should be kicked." Henderson, in an adjoining room, overheard this observation and replied "Suppose you do the kicking." Edie, in a passion, forced herself into Henderson's presence, and a war of words followed, in which the vilest epithets were used, the old man returning a quid pro quo every time. Finally the latter applied a term to the woman which assailed her to boil over with rage, and rushing upon Henderson she assaulted him with the ferocity of a tiger, and it was with the greatest difficulty that he succeeded in shaking her off and escaping. Later another Neve is, in the shape of Amanda Bates, mother of the girl, arrived on the scene, and after expending her vocabulary of abuse she challenged the expectant groom to a combat. Both women were later arrested and fined—the younger $5 and her mother $25.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Mary Smith, widow of Mr. J. L. Smith, to-day celebrated her 82d birthday.

At a meeting last night of Christ Church Chapter of Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Messrs. Clarence Leadbeater and John Herndon were elected delegates to the local council.

Mr. Frank Wenzel is seriously ill at his home on King street.

Mrs. Washington Haines is very ill at her home at Accotink.

Mr. Clifton Price is quite sick at his home on Columbus street.

The Charlotteville Chronicle says: "Mrs. Nannie Taylor and her daughter, Miss Mabel, of Alexandria, arrived in the city on Wednesday. They came to attend the burial of Mr. Theodore Taylor."

Mr. H. Kirk, by consent of the Corporation Court, to-day adopted Addie W. and Edith O. Oliver.

THE RACE TRACK COMPROMISE.

The compromise effected at Richmond on Wednesday, by which the Old Dominion Jockey Club will suspend racing at the Alexandria Island track during the month of February, and the St. Asaph track will stop book making and pool selling during that month, was the stepping stone toward a further compromise between the Old Dominion and the Virginia Jockey Clubs, and it has been definitely settled, though arrangements have not yet been consummated, that the two clubs will race on alternate days, beginning on March 4. March 1 falls on Friday, but the Old Dominion people will probably not race until Tuesday, the 5th, when they will resume the sport with a programme of six races each day. This arrangement was reached after a long consultation between representatives of the two organizations at Richmond, after it was decided not to take the injunction case into court.

The Alexandria Island people say that the more the matter is discussed, the more apparent it becomes that they are in a better condition, under the agreement made in Richmond on Wednesday, than they were before and than if no suit had been brought, because the injunction cannot be revived and made operative until 60 days previous notice has been given. Even if such notice were given, they say, it is not certain that an injunction would be granted, Judge Keith having in a similar case refused such an injunction.

The representatives of the State, on the other hand, express their satisfaction with the result, saying that their object, the stopping of winter racing, has been accomplished.

The Richmond Times of yesterday has an editorial on the agreement which was on Wednesday reached in the Alexandria Island case, in which it says: "The so-called compromise with the Alexandria Island gamblers is a mere surrender by the State. This was to have been expected, as all the ability of our admirable Attorney General is not sufficient to make a wise and just judge give a judgment against the plain statute law, and the gamblers had the law on their side. The legislature did such damage that the court could not undo it. But the language of the 'compromise' is unfortunate, when it assumes that the defendants—the gamblers—could possibly 'conduct their business orderly, without offence and without creating a nuisance.' The whole business is an offence, and as such a nuisance. Monte Carlo, with its roulette tables, is not a more flagrant and outrageous violation of the sense of morality and right of the Virginia people than are the St. Asaph and Alexandria Island 'roulette' horse games and their local and 'foreign' boards, as the bookmakers' plays are called. The infamy lies with the legislature, and those who authorized Virginia to be made the dumping ground for the abandoned men and women, who roost in Washington, and, like carrion crows, come daily over the Potomac to revel in those orgies which nowhere north of the Potomac are tolerated. We will just have to endure this miserable, humiliating spectacle until the legislature meets, which the whole accursed growth, as John Randolph said of wild onions, should be cut out by the roots, burned and exposed to hard frost."

The State says: A prominent member of the Legislature, who had much to do with the passage of the bill, said to-day that the bill was prepared to suppress pool-selling at gambling shops where there were no race tracks and to break up gambling at Jackson City. But that after the bill had been prepared, objection was raised by several distinguished members that if the bill should become a law in its original shape, it would break up legitimate racing and seriously injure the stock-raising business in Virginia. Accordingly, the bill was remodeled so as to allow legitimate racing at agricultural fairs and the like and in that shape it passed. It was scrutinized by the committees for Courts of Justice of both branches, after having been previously scrutinized by a sub-committee of the Senate committee to which it was referred.

The Jurisdiction Question Again.—As a step in the proceedings to determine whether the District of Columbia has control over Alexandria Island the attorney for the District has drafted a letter to the commissioners for transmittal to the attorney-general. According to the attorney, the District being a State, with sovereign power, it will be necessary for the United States to bring a suit in equity against the State of Virginia to determine the boundary between the State and the District, the Supreme Court having original jurisdiction in that case.

By the act of July 9, 1846, Congress re-ceded to the State of Virginia all that portion of the District originally ceded by the State of Virginia. The boundary between Maryland and Virginia has been determined to be low-water mark on the Virginia shore.

If, as claimed, the old maps, documentary evidence, etc., prior to 1801 show that there was a channel between Alexandria Island and the State of Virginia, in which the tide ebbed and flowed, then, in the opinion of the attorney, Alexandria Island must have been considered one of the islands of the Potomac prior to the retrocession to Alexandria county in 1846, and hence now a part of the District. The matter in question is to be determined by a direct suit by the United States against the State of Virginia, as the local courts, in collateral proceedings, could not well decide a question of boundary.

The letter of the attorney for the District to the attorney general of the United States, which has been signed by Commissioner Ross, and properly forwarded, makes the above contention, and concludes:

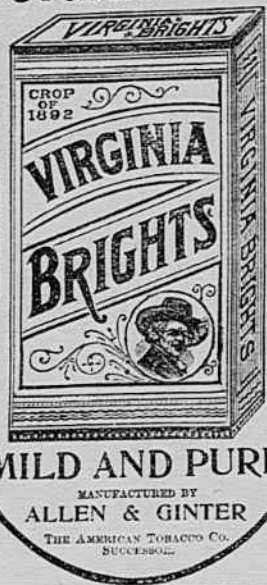

"It is important to this community, not only a matter of policy, but definitely determined, so that if Alexandria Island is rightfully within the jurisdiction the laws and regulations of the District of Columbia may be enforced therein. The commissioners have therefore to request that you will by appropriate proceedings have this question judicially determined."

GOLDEN CHAIN.—The regular meeting of Alexandria Lodge, No. 156, Order Golden Chain, was held at the Good Templars' Hall last evening at 8:30 o'clock. After the opening of the lodge with the usual ceremony and the transaction of some business, the officers for the ensuing term were duly installed. The lodge is in a most flourishing condition, many applications having been made for membership during the past six months.

The Assembly will give a hop at McBurney's Hall to-night.

POLICE COURT.—Mayor Strauss presiding.—The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Harrie Potts, Ernest Langley and Robert Arnold, arrested by Officers Smith and Webster charged with stealing a set of harness belonging to Edward E. Lawler, had their case postponed until three o'clock this afternoon.

Albert Fisher and Ollie Brooks, the former arrested by Officers Young and Hall and the latter by Officer Bettis, charged with assaulting and beating Andrew Javins, were fined $20 each.

A white man, arrested by Officer Howson charged with indecent conduct, was fined $2.

The following cases were disposed of last night:

L. W. Brennan, charged with defacing the property of Mrs. Rose Brown, was dismissed for want of evidence.

Robert Arnold, charged with the same offense, was also dismissed.

Effie Williams, colored, charged with assaulting John Henderson, colored, was fined $5, and Amanda Bates, colored, charged with abusive language toward Henderson, was fined $2.50.

Night Report.—Last night was clear and cold. Four prisoners and twenty-two lodgers were at the station house.

ASSAULT.—Early Wednesday night Andrew Javins, who lives in Fairfax county, was assaulted and unmercifully beaten by two men—Albert Fisher, of this city, and Ollie Brooks, who lives in West End. Javins says he met the two men on upper Duke street, that Brooks, who was drunk, wanted him to drink with him, that he refused, when Brooks became menacing and finally so aggressive that he shoved him away from him. Brooks fell and Fisher, who was in his company, became exasperated at Javins and with his companion followed him to the Stone bridge where they both assaulted him with stones and threatened to kill him. Javins' left eye was almost knocked out of its socket by one of his assailants. Brooks and Fisher were brought into the Police Court this morning and fined $20 each, and Mr. Leonard Marbury, Commonwealth's Attorney, subsequently swore out a State warrant against them both for murderous assault on a highway.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Ottawa Citizen says of the Guy Brothers: The Guy Bros. Minstrels played last night, and the large audience that greeted them were enthusiastic in their admiration of the clever artists who compose the troupe. This sterling organization consists of really first-class entertainers. And throughout the whole programme it was noticeable that the rough and rude element, characteristic of certain minstrel shows, and which has tended to lower minstrelsy in public esteem, was entirely wanting. Everything was in good taste and nothing jarred on the finer sense.

CHARTER.—Judge Norton granted a charter to-day to the Potomac Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Alexandria, the purposes of which are to do a general insurance business. The capital stock is to be $25,000. E. B. Briggs, of Washington, is president, and all the other officers are from that city.

BROKE HIS LEG.—Lenox Uhler, son of Mr. A. G. Uhler, had one of his legs broken at the Postoffice corner yesterday evening by the overturning of a tricycle on which he was riding. He was taken to his home on Washington street where the broken leg was set by his grandfather, Dr. Bedford Brown.

PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS.—Messrs. E. J. Miller & Son will commence on the first of February to make extensive improvements to their store on King street. They propose to make it one of the most attractive china stores in the South.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Samuel Crockett, who died in Loudoun on Monday, built the Wilkes street tunnel.

The subjects for consideration by the Literary Class to-night will be arithmetic, geography and spelling.

Alexandria Council, J. O. U. A. M., held a meeting last night. A number of persons from Washington were in attendance.

The yacht Gravato, belonging to Mr. J. K. Dospasos, was launched from the ways at the shipyard to-day after some slight repairs.

Messrs. J. S. and J. H. Rice have sold to Mrs. Margaret H. Rice the house and lot on the southwest corner of Fairfax and Queen streets for $1,666.

The Washington Board of Trade has extended to the Alexandria Board of Trade the use of their rooms for meetings, appointments to meet their friends, &c.

Rev. A. M. Smith, rector of St. John's Church, Washington, will deliver an address before the St. Andrew's Brotherhood at St. Paul's Church to-night.

A large and brilliant meteor was seen about 4:30 o'clock this morning in the southwestern skies and shortly thereafter there was quite a general meteoric display.

A stove was stolen from the front of the store of Mr. J. H. Mansfield late yesterday evening. Mr. M. says if the thief will call to-day he can have the stovepipe.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The mercury dropped to 17° last night and ice again formed on the river from shore to shore, though not of sufficient thickness to interfere with the running of steamers.

A gasoline steamer, 130 feet in length and 30 in breadth, is being built at Pocomoke City, Md., to run between the Eastern Shore of Virginia, Cape Charles, Norfolk and occasionally to Baltimore.

A sub-committee of the Senate committee on the District of Columbia, composed of Senators Huntton, Faulkner and McMillan, heard arguments yesterday for and against the bill reducing the price of gas in the District to $1 per 1,000 cubic feet.

The Southern Railway officials are completing arrangements by which passengers will be allowed to ride on local freight trains between Alexandria and Danville. This will practically add two passenger trains daily each way, and will prove a great accommodation.

Suits have been entered by the Fairfax Supervisors against Messrs. T. F. Burroughs and James McCuen to recover the amounts, $100 and $50, respectively subscribed by them towards the erection of the new Hunting creek bridge. These gentlemen claim that the bridge was not built according to the conditions under which they subscribed.

Pioneer Lodge of Good Templars, of Falls Church, Tuesday night elected the following delegates to the session of District Lodge, No. 13, which meets in that place on Tuesday, February 5: Rev. S. A. Ball, J. H. Leonard, W. P. Brown, J. R. Howard, A. D. Swift, Mrs. S. V. Prouditt, Miss Stella Birch, Miss Emma Alder, Miss Lelia Jacobs, and Miss Lillie Porter.

Tickets are out for the dramatic entertainment for the benefit of the Hydrant Fire Company on the 7th of February, and are meeting with ready sale. Mr. Neale, the chairman of the committee, says he has secured good people and, in addition to the play, he has secured the Vernon Sisters, in their latest national air dance, which, he says, is well worth the price of admission. The play to be produced is "O'Puddle's Dilemma," a comedy.

Yesterday evening a very exciting scene occurred on the rink at the High School. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were engaged in skating, when suddenly the ice parted, and Miss Annie Hoxton and her escort, Mr. Boucher, were thrown into water several feet in depth. Mr. Robert Nelson, Mr. Wm. Laird and several others rushed to the rescue and they were helped out without further discomfort than a very cold plunge. The other ladies who were on the ice were assisted to the shore by means of planks which were made to bridge the chasm caused by the breaking of the ice. The skaters, however, nothing daunted, are on the rink again to-day, the cold night having healed the wounds in the ice inflicted by the warmer temperature of yesterday.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c., 50c., and $1.00. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

I RECEIVED yesterday one lot of MESSINA LEMONS packed in fancy, the best in this market. I will sell them for $2 per box, or 60 cents per hundred. I have ten boxes open in the store. Anybody wanting LEMONS come and see them.
